Mary Cantando To Present At National Business Women's Conference
*National Expert On Growing Women Owned Businesses
To Present Sales Workshop For Women*

Raleigh, NC – Mary Cantando, Growth Expert of WomanBusinessOwner.com, will present Expand Your Sales Comfort Zone: A Workshop for Women at the National Business Women's Conference to be held on Tuesday, June 7th from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. at the Hyatt Regency Hotel on Capitol Hill in Washington, D.C. The National Business Women's Conference is a non-partisan event that will be chaired jointly by the Governor of Maryland, Robert L. Ehrlich, Jr., the Governor of Virginia, Mark Warner, and the Mayor of Washington, D.C., Anthony A. Williams. Cantando and other national business leaders will provide sessions on procurement, marketing/sales, finance, public relations, and international trade.

"I am so excited to have the opportunity to participate in this national event," said Cantando. "Woman-owned businesses are one of the fastest growing business-to-business markets today, and I am always honored to share my experiences on the topic."

About the National Women's Business Center:

The National Women's Business Center (NWBC) is a membership organization located in Washington, D.C. dedicated to training and counseling women entrepreneurs to start or grow their businesses. Through specialized training classes, workshops, networking and coaching, the NWBC engages hundreds of successful businessmen and women to assist those who want to live their dream of self-sufficiency through entrepreneurship.
